

Mark & Jill Billington

Mark and Jill have been church planting missionaries with ABWE since 1997 serving in Quebec, Canada. Credo, their first church plant, will soon celebrate its 20-year anniversary. They are now working to establish a new church plant, Maison Coram Deo. They host social gatherings with neighbors and friends to deepen relationships, share God's love, and for God to open doors to share the Gospel. They have a strong focus on discipleship training that concentrates on teaching others how to grow in their faith, and in turn disciple others to do the same. They both teach English as a second language (ESL) and Jill also works at a local community center teaching English. Mark and Jill have three grown sons – Sam, Jack, and Joel – and one “adopted Colombian daughter”, Aleja. Gray Road has partnered with Mark and Jill in their ministry since 2001.

Steve & Cheryl Winget

Steve and Cheryl joined ABWE in 1992. Appointed to Budapest, Hungary, they served on the Hungary ministry team for nine years during which time Steve was the team leader. In 2003 Steve became ABWE's Regional Administrator over Eastern Europe. Over the next twenty years, throughout Europe, Central Asia, and the Middle East, Steve trained Christian leaders and mentored numerous young men who now are pastors. During this time Cheryl taught at the International Christian School of Budapest where she developed and directed the Supplemental Services Department. In 2019 ABWE's leadership called on Steve and Cheryl to continue in similar, though expanded roles, with ABWE's Global Operations team at the International Headquarters in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Presently, Steve serves in the Training and Resources Department training and mentoring new missionaries in the areas of Theology and Missions. Cheryl serves as the MK Educational Coordinator for ABWE working with missionary families regarding school options and other educational concerns including academic and cognitive testing of their children. The goal of both Steve and Cheryl is to help ABWE missionary families to be successful, thriving, and wholeheartedly given to the Lord. Gray Road has partnered with Steve and Cheryl in their ministry for many years.
